Singer-Songwriter | Multi-Instrumentalist |
BBC Fame Academy Finalist

Location: Worcestershire / Birmingham, UK

Genre: Singer-Songwriter / Emotional Pop-Rock /
Acoustic

[ BIO ]

Nick Hall is a seasoned singer-songwriter and multi-instrumentalist whose career spans national TV success, international chart hits, and collaborations with some of the most respected names in the music industry. Emerging as a finalist on the BBC's Fame Academy 2, Nick has since built a reputation for high-calibre songwriting and powerful, emotive vocal performances.

A true "songwriter's songwriter," Nick has co-written and collaborated with legendary artists and producers, including Midge Ure (Ultravox/Band Aid), Greg Fitzgerald (Kylie Minogue/Madonna), and Ali Thomson (Robbie Williams/Girls Aloud). These partnerships have helped shape Nick's refined sound—a blend of polished production and authentic storytelling that has taken him from the studios of Birmingham to the creative hubs of Hollywood and London.
